

Alabama Real Estate Cheat Sheet 2026

The night-before summary, built like the exam.

— Scored questions	3h 30m Time limit	Scaled 70 on a 0-100 scale Passing score
$73 Exam fee	Alabama Real Estate Co... Governing body	— Pass rate

The numbers to remember

- Exam fee: $73 for the salesperson exam.
- Passing score: a scaled 70 on a 0-100 scale, and a report below 70 shows how close you came to passing.
- General (national) portion: 80 scored items, 2.5 hours.
- State-specific portion: 40 scored items, 1 hour.
- Total seat time: 3.5 hours for both portions combined.
- Plus 10-15 unscored pretest items mixed in throughout — they don't count against you and you can't tell which ones they are.
- Minimum age to hold the license: 19.
- Pre-license course: 60 clock hours with a minimum grade of 70, required before you can sit for the exam.
- Post-license course: 30 clock hours, due within 1 year of licensure along with the original license application.
- Bring two forms of unexpired signature ID (one government-issued, photo-bearing) — this is checked at the door.
- Delivered by Pearson VUE, which develops and administers Alabama's real estate exam program.

Content domains and weights

- General portion (80 items): national real estate principles and practices — twice the weight of the state portion.
- State-specific portion (40 items), with named sub-areas including: Licensing requirements — 7 items
- Broker licenses, company licenses, and place of business — 5 items
- RECAD — 3 items
- Violations which may result in disciplinary actions — 15 items (the largest named sub-area)

High-yield review areas

- License-law violations and disciplinary grounds — the biggest named state sub-area, so it deserves the most repetition on your last pass.
- Licensing requirements and broker/company licensing rules — smaller sub-areas but easy to mix up under time pressure.
- National agency, contracts, financing, and real estate math concepts on the general portion, since it carries twice the items of the state portion.
- Pair each national concept with its Alabama-specific variation rather than studying the two separately.

Top traps

- Missing the 6-month clock: state law requires passing the exam within 6 months of finishing the pre-license course, or you retake the course.
- Letting authorization lapse: your test authorization is good for 6 months with unlimited attempts at any Pearson VUE center — miss that window and you must retake pre-licensing and get re-authorized.
- Sitting on a passing score: you have 90 days after passing to submit your complete license application with materials and fees.

- Forgetting the license is temporary: the salesperson license issued expires 1 year after issuance unless you complete the 30-hour post-license course and file the original application in time.
- Wrong ID at the door: two unexpired signature IDs are required, one government-issued and photo-bearing — a single ID gets you turned away.
- Ignoring pacing: 80 items in 2.5 hours on the general portion versus 40 items in 1 hour on the state portion means the state portion leaves you slightly less time per item — don't burn extra time on the first few questions.

Official sources

- Alabama Real Estate Commission — Alabama Real Estate Candidate Handbook (#093300, August 2024, fee updates effective August 1, 2025) | Pearson VUE:
<https://www.pearsonvue.com/content/dam/VUE/vue/en/documents/publications/093300.pdf>
- Alabama Real Estate Commission — BluePrint for Licensing Success: Process & Deadlines for Obtaining an Alabama Real Estate License (2026) | Alabama Real Estate Commission:
https://arec.alabama.gov/docs/Licensing_BlueprintForLicensingSuccess_ObtainingAlabamaLicense.pdf
- Alabama Real Estate Commission — Alabama Real Estate Licensure Exams | Broker & Salesperson Certification | Pearson VUE: <https://www.pearsonvue.com/us/en/al/realestate.html>

Free practice questions for this exam: www.everyexamprep.com/practice/exams/real/alabama-real-estate-salesperson